Numb. 221.

THE South-Carolina Gazette.

Containing the freſheſt Advices Foreign and Domeſtick.

THURSDAY April 20, 1738.

To the Printer.

SIR,

IN your Gazettes No. 218 and 219, I find much infamous Scandal diſcharged againſt one Don Roberto Arenaſo, or as 'tis engliſhed, Robin Brazen-Noſe, which, the Reverend Author (I do not ſay Writer) has ſtrongly inſinuated, and moſt of your intelligent Readers do underſtand, to be levelled at me. As therefore, I have been thus publickly calumniated, I judge it right to publiſh ſomething in my own Vindication.

He affirms, that the Glare of a fine Coat, a broad-laced Hat and Jacket paſs with me for certain Marks of real Merit; now I affirm, that Cloaths either laced or plain are in an equal Degree of Merit with me, wherefore I wear ſometimes the one, and ſometimes the other. What he ſays of the Meanneſs of my Birth, Parentage and Education, and his inſinuating, that I came into this Province, with but one Shirt and an old thread-bare Coat, give me neither Pain nor Uneaſineſs; my Family and Dreſs being much better known to many of the beſt People here: But as to Pedigree, if this Reverend Don believes any Thing of his Bible, he muſt acknowledge I deduce my Original from the ſame Stock with himſelf; and as to the tatter'd Garment, I am ſure, it has been the Portion of many an honeſter and wiſer Man than the Parſon.

If I ſucceeded in an honourable Amour with a rich Widow, the greater Good-luck was mine; but I am heartily ſorry that two Gentlemen of eſtabliſhed Worth and Merit ſhould be vilified and traduced, merely becauſe this envious angry Creature imputes my Succeſs to their friendly Aſſiſtance. I ſhall ever acknowledge the Honour of their Friendſhip, and all the World will agree, that they were Men of ſuch Honour and Integrity, as to ſcorn even the Thoughts of deceiving any Woman; neither would they advance, promote or give the leaſt Encouragement to any Perſon, whoſe Life and Conduct had not appear'd to them worthy of their Countenance and Regard.

He goes on, and accuſes me of teizing and importuning the late Governour Johnſon (whom by a pretty piece of School-boy Wit he ſtiles Don noſnhoJ) to be made an Alcade, that is, a Judge or Diſpenſer of Juſtice; who, being (in this Writer's Opinion) a weak, good-natured Gentleman, was at laſt forced into a Compliance: That nothing can be more falſe than this Accuſation, is well known, and can be atteſted by ſeveral Gentlemen, now living, of undoubted Veracity.

From this Promotion (which I accepted purely on the Sollicitation of my Friends) I am charged with being guilty of the moſt villainous Actions; ſuch as ſetting People together by the Ears; of fattening and growing rich by Cruelty and Oppreſſion; of amaſſing Wealth by Wrangling and Contention, and making a ſhining Figure by grinding the Faces of the Poor, together with much more of the ſame heinous Nature. To all which I anſwer, that I have always endeavoured, to the utmoſt of my Ability, to adminiſter Juſtice impartially & uprightly, and though thro' Weakneſs of Judgment (as I pretend not to Infallibility) I may have erred, yet with Deſign and Intention have I injured no Man: And I do farther ſolemnly declare, that I never did knowingly or willfully demand, take or receive one ſingle Penny more than the Fees appointed by Law, and that but very rarely; and amongſt my Friends, Neighbours and the Neceſſitous, I have generally, if not always, executed my Office without Fee, Reward or Gratuity. And to prove the Contrary of this, I hereby publickly challenge my Reverend Adverſary, and the very few Friends he has left.

As to his ſtiling me a mock-Prince, an abſolute, arbitrary, domineering and odious Alcade; and his affirming, that my Proceedings had raiſed a general Spirit of Reſentment amongſt all Ranks and Degrees of Men; I think I need not deſire a more honourable

Acquittal,

Acquittal, than the ſingular Favour, the Majority of the Parish have lately done me, in chooſing me a Procurator, or their Repreſentative in the Aſſembly.

Whether his repreſenting any Gentleman as a wicked Fellow, as the Peſt of Mankind, as one neither fearing God nor Man, as having neither Virtue, nor the Appearance of it, as an Enemy to God and all Goodneſs, is any ways becoming a Preacher of Righteouſneſs and a Miniſter of the Goſpel of Peace, I ſhall leave him to conſider; and as he has applied ſeveral Scripture Phraſes to me, I ſhall only remind him of that particular one, which our Saviour applied to the Accuſers of the Woman taken in ADULTERY, Let him, that is without Sin, caſt the firſt Stone. And if the meek and merciful Jeſus, the Judge of the whole Earth, would not accuſe or condemn in a caſe, where the Fact was ſo notorious as not even to be denied by the Criminal; how much leſs ought this fallible Prieſt, this pretended Diſciple of the holy Jeſus, to take upon himſelf the Accuſation or Condemnation of a Perſon, againſt whom he cannot, with all his Induſtry and Sollicitation, produce one Witneſs of common Credit or Repute, to ſupport any of the many villainous Charges he has brought.

But as I believe he will pay no greater Regard to That, than he does to any other Precept of the Goſpel; I hereby give him Notice, that I ſhall ſue for Redreſs, and accuſe him publickly of Scandal and Defamation, when he may chance not to be acquitted by the Dexterity of his Sollicitor, or ſome Overſight in the Judge.

I am, Sir, &c.

Robert Yonge.
